At the conclusion of the games refreshments were served at the card tables which were showered with pansies and violets as souvenirs, forming a very attractive feature of the afternoon.

FIRST TERM MEN MUST KEEP STILL

NOT TO GET APPOINTMENTS ON COMMITTEES OTHERWISE

LEADER UNDERWOOD SAID NO SUCH ASSIGNMENTS WILL BE MADE UNTIL THE TARIFF IS OUT OF THE WAY.

WASHINGTON, March 13. — The first term men at the special session of congress, and even some of the old members, will be ignored in the matter of choice for committee assignments if they make any radical moves without the sanction of the house leaders.

This is the word which is being passed around among the rank and file of the newcomers, and the ways and means committee is using this as a club to hold over the heads of the new members who have strong, independent convictions as to tariff revision.

It is said that no committee assignment will be made during the extra session, as Majority Leader Underwood has announced that until the tariff is out of the way nothing may be looked for in this line.

BOY THROWN FROM BICYCLE IN COLLISION WITH SURREY

ELMER T. JUNK, SON OF WINTER VISITOR, SEVERELY BRUISED IN MIXUP AT CORNER OF ORANGE AND RIDGEWOOD.

Elmer T. Junk, the 13 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Junk of Washington Court House, Ohio, who are located for the season at 135 South Ridgewood avenue, was severely bruised in an accident Thursday evening at the corner of Ridgewood and Orange avenues, when he was thrown from his bicycle in a collision with a surrey, driven by a negro.

The accident occurred at about 7:30 o'clock and being but a short distance from his home the boy was taken there and Dr. Roy Howe summoned to attend his injuries which were found to consist principally of bad bruises or contusions on head and chest and on his left shoulder. He was also suffering from shock, being in a dazed condition for some time after the accident.

At the time of the collision young Junk was accompanied by a couple of boy companions and they were turning from Ridgewood into Orange avenue, going west or toward the railroad. The surrey was coming south on Ridgewood and is said to have carried no lights. The bruises are supposed to have been caused by the ends of the shafts striking the boy's head and chest, but may have been from the handlebars of his bicycle.

The injured boy is resting very comfortably today and no serious results are anticipated.

BLACK BREAD OF GUETERSLOH

New Bismarck Started Cross for Westphalian Pumpnickel and Made Fortune of Bakers.

Guetersloh was a town of some 50-six hundred inhabitants some eighty years ago when, one day during the maneuvers, a young lieutenant took up his quarters there. This lieutenant came from Pomerania, where they also make black bread of fine quality, but he liked better the peculiar flavor of the Westphalia article. His name was Bismarck.

In the year 1870 Bismarck was again traveling through Guetersloh, this time as chancellor. King William was with him. When the train stopped the prime minister called out gaily to the crowd that had come to meet them:

"Is there any one who can get us some pumpnickel with butter?"

As a number of reporters were present when this query was made the fortune of the Guetersloh black bread was made, and it speedily became the fashion all over Germany. The craze for Westphalian pumpnickel spread far and wide, cunningly gathered by the bakers who now baked for export only small one-pound loaves, for the purpose of making it look "more like a delicatessen," as they say.

The bakers of Guetersloh were worldly wise, for from the shape kneading-troughs there go into the oven first the huge loaves (certain of these that go to the farm-houses often weighing half a hundredweight) and then, shaped of what is left, the tiny loaves that are wrapped in paper and exported to all parts of the world to be sold at a delicatessen.

Women and Love Letters.

It is one of the settled facts in the history of love letters that men will write and women will keep. A woman cherishes her love letters as she cherishes her mirror or her powder puff.
She kisses them before she goes to bed, and presses them to her bosom before she does her hair up in the morning. She reads them for weeks and knows where to find them for years; and about the only safe thing the man who has written them can do is to marry her.

Another Consideration.

"I has heard," said Uncle Eben, "at politics makes strange bedfellows. But dat don't make much difference when dar's such a rumpus dat nobody kain't sleep nobow."—Washington Star.

Riches in Poverty.

How slight a thing is poverty; what riches, nay treasures untold, a man may possess in the midst of it, if he does but seek them aright.—Coleridge.

UP TO THE FREEZING POINT

Ample Cause Why Miss Oldgirl Should Heave a Sigh on Awaking From Dream.

The shimmering moonlight silvered the placid water. The tinkle of a banjo down in the cabin floated up the com-panionway and spread itself around the deck. The girl leaned against the rail. The captain was first.

"Miss Oldgirl," he said softly, "from the first minute you decorated this ship with your charming presence, I have worshiped you. Yea, worshiped.
Worshiped. As an old sea dog, the word ought to have 'ship' in it somewhere. Will you go halves with me for the rest of this earthly cruise?"

The girl was just about to answer when the first mate appeared.

"Hear me before you promise," he begged. "If you don't make me the happiest man on earth I will jump overboard and stick out my tongue at the life boat. Say, yes; ah, yes!"

Softly, though. The second mate is approaching.

"Hear me, ere you decide," he besought. "I love you so much it's a shame. Nobody did. Nobody could.
Won't you?"

With a start the girl awoke and rubbed her eyes with two knuckles and a sigh. It was her thirty-second birthday, and thirty-two is freezing point.

Being a King.

One of our naval officers tells of an incident that occurred when an American war vessel was lying at anchor in a European port, on which occasion it was visited by a monarch and his suite.

One of the members of this suite, resplendent in gold lace and decorations, with a big sword at his side and sporting a huge mustache, was exploring the ship, and, being ignorant of things nautical, had leaned against the main-hatch wingwall, mistaking it for a mast. Of what ensued the officer of the deck was informed by the boatswain's mate, who had seen the catastrophe and who broke the news of it thus:

"You will excuse me, sir, but I think one of them kings has fell down the main hatch, sir."—Harper's Magazine.

THE DAILY NEWS-15 Cents a Week

Kitten in Revolt.

A remarkable case of filial ingratitude on the part of a black kitten has occurred in Liverpool, England. A few days ago a customer threw a piece of meat between them, which was secured by the mother cat. To the surprise of everybody, the kitten sprang at his mother and drove her out of the house. Since then he has mounted guard over the doors to prevent her return, and, although she has attempted time after time to return to her old home, her stern, un-bending, and ungrateful son bars the way.

Air Purified.

The air of a cellar or any dark store room can be kept sweet by hanging lumps of charcoal in net bags. Every few weeks the charcoal should be taken out, made very hot and returned to the bags.

Keeping Mice From Pianos.

To prevent mice entering pianos there has been invented a simple sliding plate to be mounted on a pedal so that it covers its opening.

Little Fathers.

Mr. S. Joseph Baker of the department of health in New York has had picture films made showing how the "little mothers" learn their lessons.
Recently "little fathers" took their turn and all the small boys in the neighborhood of one of the schools were busy borrowing babies, and they showed themselves very apt at learning how to take care of them. These children have to care for the babies while their mothers are at work and are taught to do it scientifically.

Ideals.

Ideals are like stars; you will not succeed in touching them; with your hands. But, like the seafaring man on deserts of water, you choose them as your guides, and following them reach your destiny.—Carl Schurz.

Forget Them.

Gather up all thy sins—old wrongs, old hatreds, burning angers, memories of men's treachery; stuff them into a bag and heave them into the gulf of oblivion. Your life is not in the past, but in the future. "We are saved by hope."—Newell Dwight Hillis, D.D.

REDUCED WEIGHT ON MONODIET OF APPLES.

A reader of these Hints undertook an exclusive diet of apples for ten days for the reduction of weight. He reduced seven pounds without inconvenience or interference with work, but on resuming the usual diet was much troubled for several weeks with digestive derangement. The error was in changing suddenly to apples and as suddenly resuming the ordinary diet. I have repeatedly cautioned against sudden changes, even in the adoption of an improved diet. The system will adapt itself to any ordinary diet in time, even in an old person, but sudden changes are always to be avoided; weaning is not confined to infancy. The shock resulting from a great change indicates that there is a constant condition of disturbance when the diet is greatly varied, hence the benefits derived from the monodiet, partial or complete.

Worried Hero.
A critic of Wells' novel, "Marriage," finds in the confounding of the hero "the desire to have it all ways; to possess a woman who shall have all the charm and the caprice of the eternal feminine; who shall, by the grossness of her desires and the pettiness of conversation, give him an agreeable sense of superiority, and yet shall, to order, acquire deep spiritual insight when her husband feels he needs it."

Riches of Malay Peninsula.
One of the richest countries in the world is that part of the Malay peninsula known as the Federated States. These provinces are still under the rule of their native chiefs or sultans, though they are assisted by a British adviser. The tin mines of these small states are more valuable than most gold mines, for they produce nearly half the world's supply of tin, and the result is an overflowing treasury for the states. Vast forests of rubber trees are also proving extremely profitable.

Stone a Druid Relic.
A large buried stone, concealed for over thirty years near Anwick church, Sleaford, England, in order to be out of the way of the plough, was described, the other day, to the Lincolnshire Naturalists' Union as a Druid relic. The upper part of the stone had been flattened and an irregular shaped basin formed to catch snow or rain used for ritual purposes.

Famous Sentence.
A correspondent who inquires as to where the famous summary of Webster's career by Rufus Choate may be found—the sentence being omitted from some of the collections which publish the speech—is referred to "The Works of Rufus Choate," by S. G. Brown. The sentence contains 1,259 words.

Not for Her.
"But, madam," said the surgeon, after the woman had recovered consciousness in the hospital, "why didn't you stop when the crossing policeman held up his hand? Then you wouldn't have been struck by the automobile." "What! Me stop when Jim McGinnis holds up his hand? I'd let you know I'm his wife, an' he never saw the day when he could boss me!"—Magazine of Fun.

Sensitive Plant Life.
The craving of plants and trees for water has sometimes led them to terrible extremes. A poplar has been known to burrow beneath a wall, under a road, and down a well—all in search of water, and a pertinacious turnip which got the tip of its root into the crack in a field drain went on and on until it was six feet long in the drain. So sensitive is the tip of the root on the water question that Darwin declared it must have a brain in it.

Many Deadly Weapons.
Some persons attribute all crime to the pistol, forgetting that history tells us that more crimes were committed in the world before there were pistols. What is to prevent a person murderously inclined from obtaining and using a carving knife, an ice pick, an ax, or hatchet, a razor or baseball bat? These all make deadly weapons.

SURREICK LINCOLN AT NEW DAYTONA THEATER TONIGHT.

Surreick Lincoln, the celebrated traveler, assisted by Mrs. Lincoln, will open a three nights' engagement at the New Daytona theater beginning tonight presenting a series of interesting travelogues, supplemented with marvelous motion pictures.

Tonight he will present "Alaska, Land of the Midnight Sun," photographed from the Pacific to the frozen Arctic seas, across dangerous passes and under the greatest difficulties.

Lincoln appeared here at the old opera house four years ago after appearing at the Royal Poinciana, Palm Beach, and created a great sensation with his wonderful, fascinating pictures, and played to capacity houses for three nights.

Beauty, charm, expression and perfect presentation all combine to make the Lincoln travelogues an artistic triumph. The management of the theater guarantees this attraction to all lovers of scenic beauty.

BIG ADDITION TO PRINCESS ISSENA HOTEL IS STARTED

STRUCTURE WILL COST $50,000 AND WILL BE COMPLETED AND READY FOR USE BY NEXT SEASON.

A commodious addition, to cost $50,000, is to be built to the Princess Issena hotel in Seabreeze this summer, and work on the foundation for the new part has already been started. The business done by the big hotel this season has demonstrated to the manager, Henry W. Haynes the necessity for such an addition and the work will be pushed forward to have the new part ready for the opening of next season.

The addition, which is being built to the east wing of the house, will be two stories, running 38 x 110 feet, and connected to the main building by a sun parlor 20 x 26 feet. The second story will contain 18 new bed-rooms and 24 new bath rooms, stationary wash stands, hot and cold running water, electric call bells, etc. The first floor will contain a handsome ball room, bowling alleys and children's play room and a 73 x 36 new fire proof kitchen. The old kitchen will be remodeled as part of the present dining room.

The house was purchased by Henry W. Haynes from Mrs. A. W. Powers last summer and during this season the young manager has more than made good, not only in maintaining the prestige established for the Princess Issena by the former owner, but has won scores of new friends for the house. It is understood that a large number of rooms in the addition has already been engaged for next season. Contract was awarded D. S. Fuquay of Daytona Beach.

INTERESTING RIDES AND DRIVES POINTS WORTH VISITING

OCEAN BEACH—excellent bathing north for 10 miles and south 15 miles to Mosquito Inlet and the Government lighthouse at Ponce Park. The beach is the most magnificent in the world.

BEED, KNOX & BEED ORANGE GROVE—13 miles, via Ormond, is one of the largest groves in Volusia county and is well worth seeing; can be reached by motor over fairly good road; can also be reached by boat.

NUMBER NINE ORANGE GROVE—a large grove, passed on the way to the Beed, Knox & Beed grove, is 12 miles from Daytona.

NEW SMYRNA—16 miles from Daytona, over an excellent hard surfaced road; this drive is said to be the prettiest in the state. At New Smyrna are the ruins of an ancient fort and other historical spots, left by the colony of Andrew Turnbull.

OLD SPANISH MISSION—2 miles west of New Smyrna, reached by motor over good road. This mission is without authentic history but by many it is considered that this is the church built by Columbus on his second voyage to America. The altar is still extant, but at a later date the building was used as a sugar-mill.

SPANISH SUGAR MILL—2 miles west of Port Orange and about 8 miles from Daytona; the machinery is still in a good state of preservation, although the mill is presumed to have been built and operated by the early Spanish settlers.

DELAND—25 miles from Daytona; the county seat of Volusia county and seat of John B. Stetson university; a very picturesque city; reached by motor over hard surfaced road.

GOVERNMENT LIGHTHOUSE—a Ponce Park, 12 miles from Daytona is reached by boat or by motor on the ocean beach.

MARLBOROUGH SPRING—13 miles from Daytona; man-made spring, throws out thousands of gallons of water a minute; a delightful bathing pool, and picnic accessory. Spring is situated on old plantation. Reached by motor over good road; a nice trip for a picnic party.

OAK HILL—halet, 10 miles south of New Smyrna; several groves in the locality; reached by motor over hard-surfaced road.

ORMOND—six miles from Daytona here is located the Ormond hotel and a pretty town; nearby are the ruins of Spanish sugar mills.

TURTLE MOUND—26 miles south of Daytona; reached by boat; a mammoth mound of oyster shells supposed to have been left by a prehistoric race of people. Pottery and other antiquities have been discovered in excavating the shell.

PORT ORANGE—an attractive town 6 miles south of Daytona, can be reached by motor over hard-surfaced road; or the trip one way may be made by the road and crossing the Halifax river on the Port Orange bridge, the return can be made on the ocean beach.

CLARENDON GOLF LINKS—2 miles from Daytona and immediately north of the Hotel Clarendon at Seabreeze; the links are now in good condition. The Hotel Clarendon bears the distinction of being the only fireproof winter tourist hotel in the world.

GENERALLY, you may motor in any direction from Daytona and find places and objects of interest which your driver can explain to you; there are many by-roads through the sylvan vegetation that a visitor will greatly enjoy.

Those Ocean Beach Lots, Opposite Daytona for $250 are still going but the price after Saturday will be $300.

These lots are real bargains and we shall be glad to show them to you because we know that if you buy one you will always be glad of it.

The girls' basketball championship of the state of Florida is the title to be played for Saturday morning at the New Daytona theater, when the Orlando high school team meets the Stetson university team. Two games have already been played between these strong teams, and each has won the verdict in its home town. Daytona has been picked as the neutral ground on which to decide the title and a battle royal is expected. Both teams will probably be accompanied by a big bunch of rooters, and the local fans will no doubt turn out well.

Saturday afternoon the local high school girls will stack up against the Orlando team at the theater and will endeavor to get revenge for their last encounter, which resulted in a defeat for the D. H. S. The D. H. S. Orlando game will be called at 3 o'clock.

QUESTIONS AS TO UNPOLISHED RICE.

Several inquiries have been received in regard to unpollished rice. It has been explained that the polished rice in common use has been milled as wheat is milled, leaving the outer coat removed, which contains most of the nitrogenous element and some of the mineral. Then the grain is coated with glucose and talc, which should be carefully washed off after soaking where the polished rice is used. The difference between the milled and unmilled rice is much the same as between milled white flour and the whole wheat. The unpollished rice should not cost more than the polished, but if there is little demand for it, it may cost more in some places on account of the extra charge for transportation of a small quantity. The reader who thinks that I am responsible for "boosting" the price by recommending the whole grain rice should investigate further. If there were sufficient demand unpollished rice could be had in any grocery store for ten cents a pound.

CITY HALL AND ELECT OFFICERS.

A meeting of representative business men of this city, Daytona Beach and Seabreeze was held Wednesday evening in the city hall and a mercantile association organized with C. M. Bingham as president, Joseph Osborne, vice president and Geo. F. Ormish, secretary and treasurer. The association, which will be known as the Daytona Merchants' Mercantile agency, has a membership of 50 or more.

President Bingham appointed W. G. Nash, Graham Thompson and Geo. P. Johnson a committee to select an executive board of 20 members and they later reported the following list of names.

R. S. Maley, chairman; J. D. Maley, Geo. H. Gardiner, J. P. Pollitz, J. B. Garrison, W. F. Thompson, W. W. Carter, W. M. Hankins, H. E. Johnson, E. H. Webster, S. B. Green, F. N. Conrad, O. S. A constitution and bylaws were adopted and the first regular meeting will be held the evening of the second Wednesday in April and thereafter every other month, at the city hall, seven members constituting a quorum.

Origin of Famous Phrase.

"Write like an angel" is a corruption of Angelo. Among the Greeks who emigrated to Italy and afterwards into France in the reign of Francis I was one Angelo Verjeto, whose writing excited the admiration of the learned, so that his name became synonymous for the beautiful writing and gave birth to the phrase, to "write like an angel."

Nature Covers Bleak Spots.

The planting of the barren mounds of disused coalpits in the "Black Country" between Birmingham and Wolverhampton, England, is beginning to show successful results. The growth this year of the trees planted on the coal mounds has been very rapid, with the result that many public bodies are taking an interest in the experiments.

Pride.

"Say, Weary, I see that some fellow in congress is going to ask the government to give work to everybody." "Say, what do you think of that? Well, you can tell the fellow if you see him that I've got a little too much pride to depend for me livin' on the bounty of anybody's government."

Chinese Medicine.

Chinese medicine may be regarded to some extent as a survival of the dark ages, much of it being based upon a belief that all diseases are due to supernatural causes and are mainly occasioned by offended evil spirits which the native practitioner seeks to propitiate or drive off by charms, incantations or other devices.

IMPROVING THE TIME.

Hundreds of thousands of dollars are being spent in the effort to find one sixteenth of a second that is missing in the calculations of the world's astronomers.

A special building fitted with apparatus was erected—because in the hourglass of time one small grain of sand was missing!

The fraction must be found. Because the world's longitude is calculated on the sun's time as recorded at Greenwich and Paris and Washington, so that every calculation must account for every atom of time.

If not? If not every meridian line on earth would need to be shifted, every boundary line between countries and states changed and every map of the world made over.

And the movements of the planets would be variant! Do you see the tremendous import of an instant of time? Time is now! All there is of time or ever will be is comprehended in that now. The past is nothing; the future is not born and never will be. So far as humans are concerned there is absolutely nothing save now.

Therefore: Let us utilize the only thing we have. We cannot turn back the dial, neither make the sun stand still. We cannot measure the value of the time we have lost nor compute the value of that which has not yet come to us.

The present is potential. He who best improves what he has best appreciates its value. Therefore you will find upon the desk of the busy man this motto: "Do It Now."

He is too busy for regrets over the last chance and does not put off until tomorrow the only thing he has in hand.

N-O-W spells opportunity. Today is the day of salvation. Today you have the desire to do. Today you have the strength to perform. Today you have the hope of accomplishment. Today you have the time to succeed.

Do it today. Sufficient unto the day is the evil—and the good—thereof. Yesterday holds nothing but a memory; tomorrow nothing but a promise. Today is the only day.

Do it now!

"THE WOMAN TEMPTED ME."

"Sixty-nine per cent of the inmates of a western prison," says a recent writer, "say that they were led to commit crime by the extravagance of their wives."

Balderdash!

Within the limits of a reasonable probability it may be stated that 69 per cent of that 69 are unconscionable liars.

There's Adam, for instance.

Scarcely can there be a doubt that our valiant forbear lusted after that forbidden fruit until his mouth watered over the thought of its succulence.

And, after he had hypnotized Eve to the point of plucking away the apple, he laid the entire blame on her frail young shoulders.

"The woman thou gavest me, she tempted me." And the males of lineal descent from Adam to now have followed the like excuse.

Now—

It must be admitted there are some silly, improvident and extravagant wives. And it may be that some husbands of weak brain stuff have indirectly been driven to the commission of a crime by the sort of wife who insists upon spending more money than her husband earns, but—

The excuse is a frayed one.

The reasons why a man gets drunk are varied. He gets drunk because he wants to drink, or because somebody invites him, or because he has made a bad investment, or because he is mad at somebody, or just because.

Under the influence of the liquor he commits a crime.

Whereupon, having been brought to bay, he whines abjectly concerning his "wretched domestic affairs" and avows that he was driven to the crime by the extravagance or the nagging or the unfaithfulness of his wife.

Mostly such charges are libel. Exceptions aside, more men than women are extravagant. And the average wife will undergo more personal sacrifice for the sake of the family than the husband. And, exceptions aside, wives are more faithful than husbands.

The woman, however, is made the scapegoat for the husband's sins.

That husband who seeks to hide his frailties behind a woman's petticoat is mostly not merely a liar, but a coward as well.

OVERFEEDING CAUSES COLDS.

"The common cold is a privilege enjoyed almost wholly by civilized man," says the Medical Times. Superheated rooms, keeping out fresh air, especially from the bedroom, improper clothing and improper feeding, with the germ as the transmitter from one favorable soil to another, are the causes given for the popular ailment of civilization. Both overeating and eating the wrong kinds of food are enormous factors in catarrh production. "He who overfeeds," says the editor quoted, "is likely to catch cold, and his cold is likely to become chronic." This agrees with the statement in a recent hint that a cold is caught at the dining table, making due allowance for the minor factors. To maintain a healthy action of the skin is a prime condition in the avoidance of colds, and the best way to do this is to take a warm bath once a week and a cold "towel bath," rubbing the skin thoroughly, every morning, carefully avoiding undue chilling, especially in beginning the practice.

Keeping a Fortune.

It is one of the significant signs of the times that there is an ever-increasing business of "looking after" estates, insuring and dispensing incomes to the idle heirs and the incompetent. The question is often asked, "Why should he work? His father left him rich." The work of keeping a fortune is, in reality, a business in itself, and sometimes it is more difficult than the making. To be employed in that business is nobler than haunting hotel lobbies or sitting in club windows.—New York Mail.

Legacy to Have His Health Drunk.

Mr. John Dipple of Leytonstone, licensed victualler, who died on September 21, bequeathed £250 to the treasurer of the Leyspring lodge of Free Masons upon trust to apply the income in providing for a silent toast to be drunk to his memory, to be proposed at the installation banquet of the lodge by the master.—London

"Symptoms."

Occasionally an afflicted lady tells why she left her husband. For the married man, of some introspection and conscience, the feeling produced by the recital is something like the feeling one used to have in reading the patent medicine list of "symptoms." He used to feel that he had 'em and deserved the treatment.

CHINAMAN WAS TOO CUTE

Suspicious of Wedding Cake Sent Him
by Englishman Who Owed Him Money.

An Englishman who was appointed to an important post in China got married soon after. Among the recipients of the usual little card boxes containing a piece of wedding cake was a Chinese merchant with whom the bridegroom had an outstanding account for goods supplied.

After the honeymoon, one of the first persons the newly wedded husband met was his Celestial creditor.

"And how did you like the cake?"
said the Englishman, laughing, after the usual congratulations.

"Ah, ah," returned the Chinaman, with a cunning leer, "me no such big fool to eat him, sah. Me put cake in fire. Burn him up. He, he!"

"Oh, that's too bad," said the Englishman, very much hurt. "You might have tasted it, at least, out of compliment to my wife and myself. Why didn't you?"

"Me too clute, sah," said the Celestial, with the same winning smile.
"You owe me money, sah; sendee pot-son cake; I eat him; I die; you no payee up. Heup-lal! He, he, he! I know you English!"

The Way Out.

A mistaking mother of two children was attempting to give them a serious idea of her anxiety to make them good, and to make plain to their minds the gravity of the task before her. Overcome with the possibility of ever attaining her mother's ideal, three-year-old Frances answered in all earnestness: "Don't try to make us good, mother; just shoot us."—

Just the Trouble.
"Opportunity really knocks at many a door." "Then why don't more of us succeed better?" "The trouble is that opportunity wants us to go to work."

TWO SCENES IN TWO LIVES

By MARGARET BARR

One bright, frosty morning an elderly gentleman living on a country road was taking the air walking about his place. It was not spacious, and the house was not palatial. They indicated an owner of moderate means, but there was something about the premises that denoted he was refined.
There was a whirling of wheels up the road and an automobile appeared. Beside the chauffeur there was only one person aboard, a middle aged lady well wrapped in fur robes. The vehicle had reached a point perhaps a hundred yards from the place described when there was an explosion like a pistol shot. The auto swerved and in doing so went over.

The chauffeur was unhurt. Not so the lady. The gentleman who saw the catastrophe went to her assistance.
She was lying with closed eyes, but she soon opened them and looked at the man bending over her.

"Tell me, madam," he said, "how badly hurt you are that I may decide what to do."

"I don't know," she said in a faint voice, "but I doubt if my injuries are serious."

The chauffeur joined them, and the two carried the lady to the house.
Two young ladies, the daughters of the host, took her in charge, while the gentleman telephoned for a surgeon.
When the medical man arrived he pronounced the lady unhurt, with the exception of a sprained ankle, which prevented her walking. He said she might be driven to her home at any time. Left alone with her host, the lady said:

"This is a singular meeting, Mr. Canning."

The gentleman started. "We have not before?" he asked.

"Yes. You were once well known to me. But that was twenty years ago, and my age is just double what it was then. It is not remarkable that you should not recognize me."

"But you have recognized me."

"There is a reason for that."

"Will you give it?"

"Yes, but not directly. I will tell you a little story. The scene is the veranda of a house on an eminence overlooking a river. The season is spring. The hour was that when the twilight fades into night. A new moon is standing over the western horizon.

"Two young persons were sitting on the veranda, a man and a woman.
The man took her hand in one of his;
the other he stole around her waist.
'I love you,' he said, 'and I wish you to be my wife.' The words were simple but more winning from their simplicity. It was the happiest moment of her life.

"But not relishing being won too easily she asked for time, promising an answer within a few days. He assented, but reluctantly. When a few days had passed she looked for him to come to her for her answer. He did not come. A month passed and she received a letter from him from a distant city, telling her that he had suddenly been called away; that a new field had opened to him, but that it would be a long while before he could expect any great success. Had she loved him deeply she would not have asked for time. This was probably fortunate, since he could not be near her, a long while must pass before they could be married, and he would only stand in her way of being settled for life. If she agreed with him in this an answer to the question he had asked was not necessary. If that answer was to have been 'Yes' and she preferred to stand by it she might write him, and he would do his best to make good his offer.

"This chilled her first and only love.
She wrote him that doubtless he was right about the matter, and since his view was hers, she considered his offer annulled."

The lady had reached this point which was the end of her story, when one of the young ladies in the house brought in a dainty luncheon on a salver. She would have lingered, but her father told her that the stranger was not equal to seeing more than one person at a time. The girl withdrew.
Then he spoke.

"There is a period in a man's life between, say, eighteen and twenty-five, when what he is to be is forming. He is clay ready to thrust into the furnace. This person you speak of was then in that condition. He was at an important point of his life when the two elements, caution and daring, are struggling for the mastery. In his case caution prevailed. And yet for a time the chances between the two were equal.

"This person who at a critical moment looked behind him never again came to a point where he could confidently, fearlessly look before him.
He has lived a negative life. He has been a failure."

There was a deep sadness in his last words. The lady took his hand in hers and pressed it sympathetically.

"The carriage that was ordered has arrived," said one of the young girls, throwing open the door.

The injured woman was helped to the carriage and when seated thanked those she left for their kindness, then she was driven away.

"I wonder," said one of the sisters that evening, "what is the matter with papa. Ever since that automobile accident he has looked so sad."

"Has he?" said the other. "I haven't noticed it."

Maple Sugar Trees.

Within its wide range the sugar maple appears as a predominant tree only in the New England states, New York, southern Canada, northern and western Pennsylvania and in parts of Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota. In the southern Appalachians it occurs in scattered bodies where climate conditions are similar to those of the north. In the extreme northern part of New York state and the adjacent district of Quebec the forest growth is often almost pure maple, and even considerably farther south, where beech and birch become associate trees, the sugar maple holds its own as the dominant species.
In northern Pennsylvania at an altitude of over 1,000 feet the mixture is much the same as it is in New York.
In Ohio, Indiana and Illinois a similar condition is found. But as the hilly country disappears the maple retreats to the richer and damper soils, leaving great areas to the oaks and chestnuts.—Bulletin of the Department of Agriculture.

The Fascinating "Danzon."

The "danzon," which is the universal Cuban dance, is the oddest, most indescribable of dances, at first the least inviting, at last the most insidiously fascinating. Long before turkeys trotted or bunnies hopped in our land, in Havana they walked through dances.
But you can dance the "danzon" all night on three feet square of floor. A crowded ballroom is almost motionless;
a few steps, a queer shiver that runs down the body, a rest, then a few steps again—so hundreds of couples go on for hours. It would be inexplicable but for the music, the music that seems hideous at first, but ends by pulsating your very blood with some strange magic. It seems forever losing its rhythm, dropping its beats, while at times the barbaric rattling and din of crashing gongs wholly drowns the monotonous melody. There is very little that seems Spanish in the "dan-zon" music; it hints rather at Africa and transplanted voodoo rites in the Cuban forests.—Metropolitan.

A Wesley Anecdote.

It is said that Charles Wesley was sometimes easily annoyed, and on one occasion at a conference he became so irritated at the prolix remarks of a speaker that he said to his brother:

"Stop that man's speaking. Let us attend to business."

But the offender was relating his religious experience, and, though it was at so great a length, John Wesley evidently thought that no one had a right to interfere with it. He was therefore allowed to continue, but the moment came when Charles could contain himself no longer.

"Unless he stops," he whispered to John, "I'll leave the conference."

By this time John was enjoying the man's simple story, and he only turned and whispered to some one sitting near:

"Reach Charles his hat."

Only Truth Abides.

Was it not ordained of old that truth only shall abide forever? Whatever we may say today or whatever we may write in our books, the stern tribunal of history will review it all, detect falsehood and bring us to judgment before that posterity which shall bless or curse us as we may act now, wisely or otherwise. We may hide in the grave which awaits us all—in vain.
We may hope to be concealed there, like the foolish bird that hides its head in the sand, in the vain belief that its body is not seen. Yet even there the quick coming future will decide that it was a hypocritical pretense, under which we sought to conceal the avarice which prompted us to covet and to seize by force that which was not ours.—Thomas Corwin.

The Bloody Meadow.

Tewkesbury, where a famous battle was fought during the War of the Roses, is in Gloucestershire at the confluence of the Avon and the Severn and 180 miles from London. The battle was fought on the bloody meadow just outside the modern town, and, according to local tradition, one night in every year on the anniversary of the conflict the adherents of the white and red roses meet and fight the battle over again.—London Mirror.

A Free Hand.

"You sketch with a free hand, Miss Brownsmith," remarked the professor, who had been critically examining her portfolio.

"Entirely free," said the young lady as she cast down her eyes in soft confusion and waited for the professor to follow up the opening.

Short of Material.

low, you opened a letter that was addressed to me and marked "personal." New Reporter—Yes, sir. I'm doing the personal column today, and there was not another blamed item in sight.—
Chicago Tribune.

It Might Have Been Worse.

Lydia—I'm just as mad as I can be with Charlie. He kissed me right before all the girls. George—Well, isn't that better than if he kissed all the girls before you?

Mathematics.

Mother—Jean, give half of your apple to your little sister. Remember that a pleasure shared is doubled. Jean —Yes, mother, but an apple shared is halved.—Nos Loisirs.

Delinquent.

of the hotel clerk.

"No. He used to stop with us, but he

Daniel and the Lions.
And it came to pass that Daniel was cast into the den of lions by order of King Darius.

Early the next morning King Darius went to the den, rolled away the stone, and called out: "Do the lions bite?"

"Not unreasonably," replied Daniel, who was well up in the legal vernacular of the day.

"Good," ejaculated King Darius as he rolled back the stone. Thereupon he went forth and proclaimed to the multitude that the lion question had been solved.—Puck.

New Berry in Demand.
The loganberry, a hybrid of the blackberry and raspberry, is said to make the finest of jellies, jams and pies. Introduced a few years ago in the west, its popularity has been steadily increasing, and the demand now outruns the supply. Western Oregon and Washington are the greatest producers of the new berry.
